SEDGWICK COUNTY AT CINCINNATI.

Exhibitors, Arrive at Home Saturday Bringing the Gold Medal.

Mr. M. R. Moser and his wife, Mr. Cary Davis, who collected, expressed and took charge of Sedgwick county's exhibit at the Exposition at Cincinnati, returned home Saturday night entirely satisfied with their party notwithstanding it proved very laborious and expensive. Owing to the great drought prevailing in Ohio and the central states, the fruit classes were wholly out of the question, and the only exhibit of fruit from Sedgwick county was a small collection of apples, pears, grapes, and other fruit. The exhibit was well received and the exhibitors were awarded a gold medal for their efforts.

THE FAIR.

Yesterday morning the clouds were dark and threatening, and in consequence many were the predictions that we would have a wet week for the fair. About noon, however, the weather was changed, and the sun, a brisk wind arose which dispelled the threatening clouds, and during the remainder of the day the sky was perfectly clear and cloudless, and the sun shone out bright and warm, while a breeze refreshing breeze rendered the atmosphere balmy and pleasant.

—MULVANE DOINGS.

To the Editor of the Daily Eagle.

Mulvane, like other towns, has some advantages peculiar to itself which I hope to devote a letter to at no distant day when I shall have more time than now.

Mr. J. C. Range has lately moved here from Missouri and bought a residence and business property and is preparing to build an elevator. This place has no elevator now and the new building will be a valuable acquisition.

Mr. J. C. Corbin and family have recently moved here from the Indian Territory expecting to make a place of their home.

Sammy Gould, a son of one of the most prominent business men in the city, was buried today. He had been sick for nearly two years with consumption, and his early demise caused deep sorrow.

W. C. Dryden is building a brick store, the lower story to be occupied by himself with a stock of hardware. The Odd Fellows are adding the second story.

Daniel Conkling has traded his livery stock to the Booth Bros. for their grocery.

The Mulvane merchants speak of a fair trade, but a little scarcity of money.

MULVANE, September 29, 1884.

EVERY HOUR.

The Fort Scott & Wichita railroad will run special trains from their depot on Second street to the Fair grounds and back every hour, commencing at 8 o'clock a. m. and stopping at 2:30 p. m. every day.

He has a couple of men spotted and is energetically tracing the matter up.

—J. L. Warner, land agent for the Santa Fe railroad, was in the city yesterday and reported late sale on the line of the above road as being somewhat successful. He left last evening for his home at Ottawa, Ill.

BLAINE'S OVATION.

SARASOTA, Fla., Sept. 29.—At this Mr. Blaine spoke of the great changes wrought since his first visit to the city in 1848, and reminded the people that the greater part of this progress had been made under Republican administration.

President Hayes followed in a brief speech on the tariff question.

At Fremont, ex-President Hayes escorted Mr. Blaine to the platform and introduced him to his friends and neighbors, asking for his cordial reception as an old friend and as the standard-bearer of the Republican party whose success he believed was essential to the prosperity of the country.

Mr. Blaine was received with great demonstrations of applause and spoke as follows:

It gives me great pleasure to be thus welcomed to Fremont to be introduced by ex-President Hayes to his neighbors and friends, and I am glad to have an opportunity to say here that it was the favorable fortune of your distinguished fellow citizen as a question of a private citizen to leave the people of the country in a far more prosperous condition at the close of his administration than that of any other president.

It is a substantial built-upon structure, with a seating capacity of six hundred, and in the center, and surrounded by a railing, is a square space containing a table and a row of seats intended for the president and officers of the association and distinguished visitors.

Owing to the recent showers, the track is in splendid condition, and we are informed that there will be some exciting dashes of speed and lots of fun on two or three days of the fair. There will be speaking also, but we cannot expect to see the proceedings in this issue, as the programmes are not yet prepared.

On the east side of the grounds are located the Live Stock and Poultry department. This is a fine class B, which includes all kinds of horse flesh. For the first time, there are a long close shed or stable and another open shed, each containing forty stalls. Next comes class A, including all kinds of cattle. Their quarters embrace a substantial double structure containing forty stalls and an open shed with an equal number of stalls with feed racks and every convenience. Further to the north are the quarters for sheep and swine embracing two covered sheds containing twenty stalls each and two double rows of pens, each numbering forty stalls and conveniently laid out. Fully two-thirds of the stalls in this class are taken up by Mr. David Fox, importer and breeder of sheep and swine. Mr. Fox, Hoffman and Stewart and Boyle, importers and breeders of pedigreed Poland-China pigs. Near these quarters are three large quarters for poultry.

Everything seems to indicate a very large exhibit in every department and if the weather continues fine there are excellent prospects of a very successful fair. The eagle will contain a full report of each day's proceedings and the eagle will contain a full report of each day's proceedings.

Today will be taken up principally with making the entries and putting the sundry articles for exhibition in place and setting the class quarters.
